From Diana's Desk

Over the years we have had parents memorialize their children in many creative ways. At your request this issue is dedicated to some of the ways that parents, family, and friends have chosen to remember and honor their precious child.

The IRIS Holiday Service; was started in 1994 when Denise Moravec wanted a special service during the holidays where she could honor her son Nicholas Moravec. The first service was attended by approx. twenty-five people and was held at the Bishop Whipple Chapel on St. Mary's Campus. In 2010 the service was attended by several hundred people, and for the last 15 year the service has been held at the Chapel of the Good Shepherd on Shattuck Campus, on the first Sunday in December. You, your family and friends are invited to attend on December 4, 2011.

The IRIS Turkey Trot was developed in Memory of Hope Kuennen (12/27/2005) and August Kuennen (11/24/06) by their mother, Deanna Kuennen. The First Turkey Trot was held on Thanksgiving Day 2009 with 500 people in attendance, the second was held in 2010 with approximately 1000 attending. The IRIS Turkey Trot Mascot, "Trot", is made real by Sue Reuvers. Sue plays "Trot" in memory of her daughter Angel

Alison Reuvers (9/10/06). The 2011 Turkey Trot will be held on Thanksgiving Day (November 24) at the Faribault Middle School, an event you will not want to miss! Many of the teams who walk/run in memory of a child dressed alike or found a way to be recognized as a team. Some by wearing matching scarves, shirts, hats, bells, pins etc. if you need ideas visit the IRIS Scrapbook on our website.

Angie and Dan Neubauer both help IRIS by doing fundraisers. Angie started "For the Love of Joshua" Co-Ed Softball tournament that raises funds for IRIS, the Le Center Elementary School and The Joshua Neubauer Memorial Fund. This tournament is held in LeCenter, MN in August. The event has been very well attended over the years and offers everyone a chance to remember and honor a child in a fun festive way.

Dan also runs the IRIS Bingo that is held with our annual Pancake breakfast in February. He has been known to play "Trot" in area parades. The Neubauer's son Joshua was born 10/13/2000 and died from SIDS on 12/8/2000.

In 2008 Nick & Melanie LaCanne hosted a memorial Golf Tournament for IRIS. "The LaCanne's Memorial Golf Tournament" was started in memory of Finley and Chase LaCanne who were stillborn on 3/21/2006.

Over the last 4 years there have been over 900 people who have taken part in this wonderful fundraiser that consists of 18 holes of golf, boats and ATV's as hole in one prizes, a gourmet meal, all followed by wonderful music.

Natalie Crooks started the IRIS Scrapbooking group following the death of her son Preston who was born 7/28/2002 and died from cancer on 1/7/2004.

This ongoing group has everything you need to create a beautiful scrapbook of your precious child, thanks to Natalie and her dedication to the event. The Next Scrapbooking Day will be September 24, 2011 from 9 am – 9 pm. You will find more information on the event in this newsletter.

Beth and Eric Brandt have a wonderful Holiday tradition that started the first Christmas following the birth and death of their twins Abigail and Noah (January 24 – 26, 2007). Beth and Eric asked family and friends to do something kind for another person in memory of their twins. These Wonderful Kind Acts have been inspiring to many others and include: Volunteering for IRIS and other organizations, buying lunch for the person behind you at the drive thru, paying for a soldier's meal at a restaurant, giving vacation time to a coworker, donating hair to locks of love, opening countless doors for strangers and saying hello to every person met, paid for childbirth classes for mothers, made cookies for others, picked up fallen branches in a cemetery, lawn care, care for flowers at a child's grave whose parents have moved, sent a card to newly bereaved parents so they would know they were not alone, said a pray for someone else, donated books to what would have been my child's school on special days. The list could go on forever.

Memorial Tattoos

Many parents have chosen Tattoos in memory of their child. There are many more tattoos on the IRIS website under creating memories. Do you have one that you would like to share with other please e-mail us a picture.

IRIS was founded in 1987 (24 ½ years ago) to assist parents, family, friends, and professionals who were touched by the death of a child. IRIS was started because of my son, Derek Joseph Sundwall, who was stillborn on 10/12/1985.

We all have our own ways of honoring and remembering. In this newsletter you are given many opportunities to create memories of your child, to take part in specially planned events that have been created by parents who really do understand. I encourage you to take part in some or all of these wonderful events. Finding a new sense of normal following your child's death is easier when you're not walking the road alone. Join us.

Take Care,

Diana

Angel Whispers

Author unknown

Dear Mommy,
 Before we said our first hello,
 the time had already passed.
 For when you held us in your arms,
 We had gone to heaven to rest.
 We felt angelic tears down our cheeks,
 and watched you as you wept.
 We wish we could have changed it all,
 Your tears touched our souls so deep.
 But Mommy when you are sad, please be assured we know.
 For death cannot take away your love,
 it will only continue to grow.
 Time and distance cannot erase,
 a love and bond so deep.
 There is no bond that can compare,
 and in your heart we'll keep.
 When you are feeling far away,
 and missing us so much,
 close your eyes and feel our wings,
 there soft and gentle touch.
 Or at night as you sleep,
 we'll join you in a dream.
 You will see us standing close to you,
 and we'll be lost within our wings.
 So dear Mommy,
 as you go from day to day.
 Find comfort in the knowledge,
 We are never that far away.

Sleep Well

Author unknown

We wish you a peaceful heart undisturbed by the day's pains or by the dread dreams of tomorrow's cuts and bruises

If possible unleash the bonds that tie you to the earth and sail outward to the stars just above our roof.

You are made of stardust....
 arranged in a way that delights us

To let their soft light quietly illuminate your dreams

IRIS Continues Efforts for Paperless Newsletters

In an effort to save approximately $5,000 per year, IRIS is asking everyone who currently receives our newsletter to provide us with an e-mail address. Being able to send you e-mail notes will eliminate the need for many of the smaller mailings that we are currently doing. This process Will Not completely eliminate the mailed newsletter but will allow for more complete notification and updates on events, meetings, etc. Please take a moment to send an e-mail to iris@gwestoffice.net Please include your e-mail address, Name changes and/or corrections, and your current mailing address.

Tears

By Doyle Alldredge, 2005

Never be ashamed to shed a tear
For the child you loved so dear,
Each teardrop holds unlimited love
For our precious child who's gone above.

With each tear comes a memory
That God has placed in your heart,
A cherished moment of a time gone by
That God placed lovingly to each teardrop.

Oh, we may wipe each tear away from our face
As each travels down to fall,
But the memories of our child
Can never be erased.

Do not be ashamed to shed a tear
For your child you loved so dear,
When one teardrop falls
Another will take its place;
One day our tears may disappear
Which sounds so really sad,
Our teardrop memories will change places
From our eyes to our heart, never to fade away.

I Sent You a Kiss Today

FROM CENTERING CORP. MAGAZINE
AUGUST 2011

By Darcie D. Sims

I sent you a kiss today. Did you get it? I sent it by air mail. I kissed my fingers and then opened them to the breeze and watched it go. I tucked in some hugs and well wishes, too. Did you get them?

I thought of you today. Did you know that? Could you feel my arms around you? My thoughts caressing your shoulders, my mind trying to reach yours.

I spoke to you today. Did you hear me? I spoke to you of everyday things. I talked about how the clouds moved across the sky, sending shadows whisking over the lawn that I had just raked. I told you how pretty it looked as the leaves swirled gently in the breeze. Do you remember the times when we would lay together in the grass and just watch the clouds make shapes in the sky? I told you about my remembering that today, too.

I talked to you about how the sun sparkles on the water in the pond and how the wind chime has the loveliest tones. I wonder if you can hear them? I told you about my day, the mundane little things that kept me busy. I ironed and dusted and vacuumed and moved some things around—mostly just re-arranging things. I cleaned the blinds and polished the silver—just regular things—nothing special, except I thought of you as I did them.

I told you about my Big Project and how far it seems to the end. I keep thinking of new ways to get it finished and that just makes the whole thing take longer...but of course, you know that about me, don't you?

I watched you today. Did you see me, too? I watched a puppy scamper across the yard, tugging its young owner. I watched a brand-new driver trying to fit into a parallel parking space and I laughed, remembering. Do you remember things?

I saw an old lady and an even older man holding hands as they crossed the street and the look they shared reminded me of us. That secret sharing of something just between them. I missed you today. Do you miss me, too?

I planned the menu for the family dinner today and I asked you what you wanted. Do you still like mashed potatoes and butter, green bean casserole and cranberry relish? I baked two pies and saved some dough for you, so you could pat it out and fill it with strawberry jam and then bake it, making a little "patty pan pie" just for you. Do you still do that, sometimes?

I counted the chairs and called a neighbor because I have to borrow two more. Or I guess two people could stand, or maybe they won't come. I washed three loads of laundry and ironed the tablecloth and put the napkin rings out. I wished you were here to help, like you used to. You always put the napkins in the rings just so and made them look so special.

I wore your sweater today. I hope you don't mind. It turned cool, and the breeze turned into a wind and I had to take the wind chime in. The last bits of summer are gone now, packed away until the next time around.

I found your blanket today, tucked way down in the cedar chest. I was looking for the afghan to put over the back of the rocking chair and there it was...waiting for me. So I hugged it and wrapped myself in it like you used to do. It was only for a moment, but I thought I heard you in the next room so I went to look. It was only the timer on the dryer downstairs. But, for a moment, I thought it was you.

I saw you today...in a hundred places in the house, the yard, across the street, waiting in line at the bank and walking just ahead of me at the grocery store. Why didn't you turn around? Didn't you know I was there?

I sang to you today. I'm still not very good, but the choirmaster says I am "enthusiastic." Maybe it will be my ticket of admission—enthusiasm should be worth something somewhere.

I dreamed of you today and for just a little while, we were one again. Hand in hand, arm in arm, head to head, heart to heart, lives wrapped around and through each other, like two peas in a pod, two puppies in a basket, two people in love. I haven't stopped loving you—have you stopped loving me? I hope not.

I'll be okay. I am okay. It's just that sometimes, I want you here, right here with me, not just in my thoughts, my dreams, my prayers, my me. I want you here.... And then, you are. I only have to touch my heart to feel yours beating. I only have to whisper your name to hear mine spoken. I only have to count my blessings, count the moments we had, to know I am rich beyond any man's measure. We were and still are and that's all I need. It wasn't enough and it will never be enough, but it was something and for that, I am forever thankful...today, tomorrow and always.

I sent you a kiss today...and you sent one back.
Thanks...for the little while.

It's Halloween

By Sharon Bryant

It's Halloween again
and fall is in the air
I stopped by the store today
I saw costumes everywhere

I saw fairies and goblins frogs and toads alike
and then there was the little ghost
I closed my eyes real tight

I felt the tightening in my chest remembering that Halloween long ago when you picked out the little ghost
the eyes had to be just so

I touched the fabric with my hand memories came flooding through of that last Halloween we had planned when I was going to be a Goblin for you

I felt the tears start to sting and knew I had to leave Halloween always brings back memories from grief unseen

You left me a week before Halloween your ghost suit is still in the box sometimes I try and open it up but something always makes me stop

Each year as I watch the children come by I always look for a little ghost thinking of how happy you'd been wearing the costume you loved most

Maybe I'll just take a peek if I'm up to it this year and touch the fabric one more time from that Halloween from yesteryear.

Found Balloons

The Annual October IRIS Balloon Release is always a touching experience, but some of the best stories come in the hours, days, and years that follow. Many of them leave you teary-eyed and speechless...

E-mail received Tue 6/21/11 at 6:18 PM

Dear IRIS,

I experienced a miracle today.

I walked to our mailbox and found your balloon card on the asphalt by my feet. It had been released on 10/7/2007!

And for the miracle: Today it is exactly 16 years ago, that we had to say our goodbye to our baby boy. He was born at 19 gestational weeks on midsummer's day in 1995.

I am speechless, touched by an angel, which you sent many years ago and it reached me now on this special day.

We have experienced three miscarriages; also we have had three live children and are very blessed indeed. I still quietly celebrate each of our unborn baby's "birthdays".

God bless all of you and your sacred work

Thank you
In tears, in awe
G.P.

Is this YOUR Child's Balloon Tag?

- ☛ The name is no longer visible
- ☛ The art work in the lower left is the teddy bear (shown below the tag)
- ☛ Notice the heart in the upper left corner by the ribbon holding the tag

Could it be your tag? Contact us if it is!

Kindred Souls Are We

By Veronica Partridge, 25 March 2006

Kindred souls are we, parents who have lost our child.
 Mothers bereaved and full of grief
 who know not what it is to smile.
 Fathers stand by still and so strong,
 Fear showing their feelings will leave their families forlorn.
 Hearts shattered, no piece left in sight.
 Breathing takes all of our strength and might.
 Caring not much for what we have left.
 Nothing else that could happen could take us to any further depths.
 How sad the same stories uttered over and again.
 Leaving us still with only memories writhing in pain.
 Our lives forever changed in just a moment's time.
 Now weighing in the balance are our hearts and minds.
 Who would have thought, even for a moment,
 that we'd ever lose our precious one?
 It's such an unnatural, out of order devastation
 it renders us all undone.
 Well wishers try their very best to understand and to offer advice,
 They tell us out of their well intended ignorance
 we need to get on with our lives.
 What do they know,
 meaning no disrespect or ungratefulness?
 Unless you're a member of this heart wrenching club you can't truly fathom its profound distress.
 If the truth to be told as realistic as I can be
 I wish the pain could stop right here ending with me.
 I wish other parents would never have to endure these very feelings have I.
 I wish for no others to have to miss their sweet angels and kiss them goodbye.
 For somewhere in heaven there is a place
 our children all play
 And it's this very hope that we'll all meet again on that very blessed day.
 Jesus hold us and keep u
 till when your Father calls us home.
 Keep our faith strong and hearts beating for it won't be too long.
 To us it may feel like an eternity here on Earth.
 Especially for us mothers who gave these precious angels birth.
 We believe in God's promises it's all that we have It's what keeps us going each day
 even when we feel so sad.
 Kindred souls are we, parents who have lost our child.
 Mothers bereaved and full of grief
 who know not what it is to smile.

National IRIS Advocate Training Conference

Infants Remembered in Silence, Inc. (IRIS) is excited to announce its 2012 Advocate Training Conference. IRIS will present a comprehensive, national training, geared towards bereaved parents and professionals who wish to assist newly bereaved parents and staff in a unique “Hands On” environment.

IRIS was founded in 1987 to meet the unique needs of families grieving the death of a child during all gestational stages of pregnancy through early childhood. In 2012, IRIS will celebrate 25 years of working directly with grieving parents and the child that has died in both the hospital and funeral home settings.

Our blueprint for success is simple:

Small class sizes, one-on-one attention, instructors with “Real-World” experiences in the field with a hands-on approach to learning.

Who Should Attend?

- Those who have experienced or been touched by an infant loss themselves and wish to improve the journey for those who currently grieve the death of a child
- Health care professionals
- Funeral directors
- Childbirth Educators & Doulas
- And others who wish to support grieving families

The April 20 – 22, 2012 Advocate Training Conference will be held at the beautiful Gainey Conference Center in Owatonna MN and promises to offer a new and fresh approach to infant loss services in your community.
